By seeing how a text is made irrelevant, we turn the text into an alien object, and thereby bring to bear an intensified level of scrutiny. Disturb in order to discover. Rather than take the context of the text for granted, we seek to find the limits of meaning built into the text, the point at which it becomes alien to us, and in so doing, we discover something new about it.

The Bible says that “ the wages of sin is death ” (Romans

6:23). This not only refers to physical death, but to eternal separation from God: “ But your iniquities have separated you from your God; your sins have hidden His face from you, so that He will not hear ” (Isaiah 59:2). This is the foremost consequence of man ’ s rebellion against God.
