pressed him on every side, and a great surge of fear swept through him--the fear of the wild thing for the trap. It was a token that he was harking back through his own life to the lives of his forebears; for he was a civilized dog, an unduly civilized dog, and of his own experience knew no trap and so could not of himself fear it.

The Call of the Wild

is a short adventure

novel by Jack

London, published

in 1903 and set in

Yukon, Canada,

during the 1890s

Klondike Gold

Rush, when strong

sled dogs were in high demand. The central character of the novel is a dog

named Buck.

the ice breaking

and everything.

We're not sure if we would

necessarily call it

an antagonist, but

it's an interesting

point to ponder.
