Open questions elicit longer

answers. They usually begin with what, why, how. An open question asks the respondent for his or her knowledge, opinion or feelings. "Tell me" and "describe" can also be used in the same way as open questions.

Here are some examples: What happened at the meeting? Why did he react that way? How was the party?

Survey Questions 101: Question Types, Examples, and Tips

The “ five Ws ” are the question words who , what , when , where and why.

However, just to make things trickier, there are actually other question words in this category too, like “ how ” and phrases that start with “ how. ” . So you may also hear these referred to as “ five W and H ” questions or simply “ wh- ” questions.
