Duncan McKinnon is on leave from the Army Rangers to help his brothers find their missing father. Having sustained a shrapnel wound to the leg, his continued military service is up before a medical review board. A chance meeting in the airport with the woman he'd seduced on his last trip home makes him want to launch a mission to rekindle their desire. But if the military boots him out, he'll be jobless and unable to support himself or anyone else that comes along.? Fiona Guthrie left Eagle Rock, Montana after a short-lived love affair with the one guy she'd never stopped loving. Relegated to the friend-zone in high school, she'd given up hope on Duncan McKinnon until one fateful night when he'd been home on leave. Their one-night stand only reinforced the fact Duncan was the only man for her and the baby created from their short union. Now she's back in Eagle Rock, running for her life and the life of their baby girl. She needs his help to save herself and their daughter from someone who wants them dead. When Duncan learns Fiona and her little girl are in trouble, he vows to protect them with his life, not quite understanding the incredible connection he has to the little girl who looks nothing like Fiona and more like him. She pulls the Earl of Keswick free-and then goes to great lengths to hide her limp from him. Is it too much to ask, just once, to be seen and treated as everyone else? Keswick has come to Gloucestershire to hide-from an overzealous debutante, from his father, perhaps even from himself. He bonds with Lady Glory as a fellow misfit-her limp is nothing compared to the wounds he hides. They pledge to see each other through the choppy waters of the party, but he never expected to be caught up by this sprite of a girl-with her quick wit, stunningly fine seat on a horse and giving heart. Not that he could ever pursue such inclinations. For no true lady could want a man with his reputation and entanglements. Who could love a man who is nothing but a rakehell? He's about to find out.
