Va Design Guidelines

The purpose of the VA Healing Environment Design Guidelines is to establish a holistic Healing Environment framework. The guidelines describe ways to plan and design the key public elements of a healthcare facility to deliver safe, effective, and efficient healthcare to Veterans. The VA Healing Environment Design Guidelines are to be utilized by VA facility managers, architects, interior designers, planners, clinicians, and architecture/engineering (A/E) consultants.

This Design Guide is not intended to be project-specific. It addresses the general functional and technical requirements for typical VA Healthcare Facilities. While this Guide contains information for key space types required in a Digestive Diseases-Endoscopy Service, it is not possible to foresee all future requirements of
