"I knew I was going to lose my sister and began to shiver. Then, I told myself that I had to risk my life in order to save my sister. I hit the hungry animal with the plate several times. Eventually, it left my sister and ran towards the fields. I was able to save my sister and earned a moment of pride," says Mahima, with a twinkle in her eyes. This is the story of Mahima Tiwari, one of the brave girls of India who had been awarded with the prestigious Geeta Chopra Award in 2004. Her commendable act gives strength to many other children of her age to emulate. A brief glimpse into the lives of these courageous kids who deserve to be honored and remembered for their unsurpassable acts, is being presented through this book. We have tried to make this book knowledgeable and interesting by covering inspirational stories of kids across the nation. Hope our esteemed readers will appreciate our attempt to laud the sacrifice of these brave children who are the winners of various National Bravery Awards of India.

Transnational Spaces of India and Australia Spectrum Of Thoughts

"Who do you think you are? A monster slayer or a god? And why do you think people listen to monster-slayers or gods? It's because they fear them more than the monsters themselves." "People won't fear me. I am not you." "And you think it's up to you to decide that? It's the people we're talking about. Gods and monsters—these are just different names people give to justify their clinging to something higher, to hide their inherent, weakness-driven, pathetic behaviours. They will form cults after you. They will blindly follow you. You think you're liberating them, but all you're doing is binding them further and stronger." As Veera Bhadra struggles to find his place in all the happenings between life and death, unsure if his unfathomable strength was a gift or a curse, he meets Karthik—his answer.  "Mom, why do I like to fight so much?" "People like many things. Some like drawing. Some like dancing. And you like fighting." Young Karthik did not seem to be satisfied with the response. "You are not listening to me, mom. I like to fight so so so much more than others. So much more than anyone likes to dance. I don't want to do anything else." "So, do it. What's the problem?" "There is no problem. I just don't know why I love fighting so much." As Karthik struggles to find his place in all the wins and death, unsure where his unexplainable passion will lead, he meets Veera Bhadra—his answer. Two lives. Different destinies. One epic encounter.

Transnational movements are more intricate than diasporic conflicts of home and away. They operate not only as international connections but also transect and disturb national formations. What are the spaces (both physical and temporal) in and around which transnational exchanges occur? Much discussion of the transnational focuses on international movements of law, politics and economics as they relate to Europe and the Americas. This book extends the focus to dynamics across the humanities and social sciences and concentrates on the historical and now growing interactions between India and Australia. Studies come from scholars in both countries, who combine academic depth for students and researchers and writing that is clear and engaging for the general reader.

The three novels of Under The Painted Eyes are set in the shadow of the great Himalayan Mountains and against the background tapestry of Nepal's fascinating history and rich culture. Fictional and historical characters live, love, fight and worship under the watching eyes of the Adi Buddha, which are painted on the torans of the Swayambhunath and the Bodnath and other ancient temples. The novels tell of romance and love over the centuries and the happiness and tragedy they bring. There are the golden-roofed pagodas and the exotic festivals, intrigue, war and massacre, and the abuse of power and finally the successful struggle for democracy in modern times.

The font size of PAPER BACK of this book is rather small 9 font Times New Roman. If it is PAPER BACK you purchase, be sure yourself that you can read it at that size. First 'Amaswitha' (1,51,618 words): Muhura an evil man because of his anger on god decided to expand his empire in the whole of the universe. He started doing atrocities in the world taking the help of bad angels. But the great psychiatrist Sahamooti and parapsychologist Vamsi demolished the palace in which Muhura and his gang were stationed and made them powerless and helter-skelter for a long time. Next 'Sasikala' (1,09,423 words): Muhura and his gang who have become powerless and helter-skelter for a long time because of demolition of evil palace, once again grouped together and started doing atrocities on the earth once more. Then, Vamsi, the parapsychologist as per the advice of 'Amaswitha' the queen of the empire of Muhura, took Muhura, Ahina and Amaswitha into him in his village where Amaswitha took birth as 'Sasikala' Then 'rustle In The leaves' (3,52,000 words): Once again Muhura and his gang were out and in the open. Their atrocities this time on the earth were even more vigorous. Vamsi and others could not know whether the mission of Vamsi was failed or they have been made believe by Muhura that Vamsi took Muhura, Ahina and Amaswitha into him. As the atrocities of Muhura were unbearable and unthinkable, Vamsi and Sahamooti once again decided to put an end to Muhura and his gang once and forever. For that they took the help of not only Dr. Rose, Dr. Charles, psychiatrists who helped them previously to go against Muhura but also people like Vinay, parapsychologist, Niranjana, psychologist and some others also. How this time Vamsi, Sahamooti and others who determined in themselves so strongly to destroy Muhura and his gang forever succeeded in their mission is the story of 3,52,000 words mega romantic, psychological and paranormal thriller 'rustle In The leaves.'

Life is profound, complex, and full of surprises and difficulties. When these occur suddenly, life is frequently difficult, frequently perplexing, and occasionally downright deceitful. And, as they say, life isn't just; or, at the very least, it doesn't share its blessings equally. Some people discover and fulfil their aspirations with a fair amount of ease; others battle for a very long time; and some never succeed at all. Life is full of valuable lessons that are best taught as early as possible. The earlier one learns how to deal with challenges, take the initiative to find their unique slot, and stop bad habits in their tracks, the sooner they learn to handle them; and the more time there is to accomplish the most good. Real life is about challenges and opportunities, the unique slot everyone fills, and the dangers of entitlement and self-pity. "The Life Lessons" is a book of 31 writers who have inked their thoughts, experiences, episodes and beliefs on life.

It's heart-breaking, finding the right person at the wrong time. And worse? Meeting the wrong person when the time is right. Aditi Narang is an obvious beauty. With her charming personality and magical aura, she steals hearts without much ado. When she professes her love to Shyam, he says 'No'. Padma Lakshmi is an average girl, who goes about her life like a routine. There is nothing distinctly remarkable about her, which repels Shyam. But when proposed to marry her, he says 'Yes'. Shyam appears quite sorted, well-settled and practical in the way he goes about life, and is the eligible bachelor that any girl would be lucky to marry. In a fierce battle between his mind and heart, tossing insecurities and juggling fears, Shyam wrongs both the women. But why would he do that? Socha Bhi Na Tha is a fast-paced, gripping story of love in various hues, extraordinary circumstances, thrilling emotions, and unheard of drama. It leaves us wondering, was it his sanity that prevailed, or his insanity that triumphed?

Who doesn't want to be in love? Who doesn't want to be loved? Who doesn't want to meet one's love? Age, time, gender, race, place, period, money, challenges, curse, backstabs and sacrifices don't even count when two are in love selflessly. Couples can read together, singles can read alone, children can read during playtime, middle and old-aged can read in their leisure time, novel-lovers can read day in and out because this book is an amalgamation of sensitivity of flowers and power of the swords. She is the Army-Chief is the first part of the seven-series book, The Girl Who Reads her Past Six Lives written by Poojitha Reddy Gosula. It is periodic fantasy fiction. In several fictional and fantastical worlds of the story, you will meet relatable characters living a surreal lifestyle, yet you will feel the reality of our planet. This book is for all age groups and genders across the globe. The culture in the book could be different to many but the emotions are universal. Curse and love are universal. "Some dreams can be more than just behind the closed eyes in the nights. I have many such. A series of such dreams and my creativity are added to this story." --Poojitha Reddy Gosula.
