The Bold 9930 does still work. Email will work if your carrier still supports BlackBerry Internet Service. Which one are you with? The last OS Update is 7.1.0.1098. It is a few years old but is very stable and offers good battery life. Now for the downside: the browser is less and less capable.

Review | CrackBerry
Overall I feel that the Bold 9650 is a great device for CDMA users. We always seems to get left in the dust when it comes to the "latest and greatest" devices, so this device is a welcome relief (at least for now). Having Wifi, the optical trackpad, 512MB of memory and global options make this one of the best devices yet.
Blackberry 9650 - Verizon Community
The BlackBerry Bold 9650 is a follow-up to the popular 9630 Tour and adds WiFi capability, as well as an optical track pad for more efficient navigation. Other features of the Bold 9650 include 3 megapixel auto-focus camera with video capture, 3G data along with GSM modes for international use, Bluetooth compatibility, GPS navigation, and BlackBerry's renowned push email.

The Bold features global roaming with European 3G network radio bands, and Verizon says it will be the first phone to support GlobalAccess Connect, a tethered modem service that will work abroad. The BlackBerry Bold 9650 will be available for $250 with a contract agreement, and Verizon is offering a $100 mail-in rebate.
