“Creativity is just connecting things,” observed Steve Jobs. In today’s diverse, ever-changing job market, creativity is more necessary than ever. In a profession offering a broad range of job opportunities, librarians are surrounded by myriad connections to be made. They are trained to recognize them. This collection of new essays covers a wide spectrum of methods for cultivating creativity. Topics include learning through role-playing games, libraries as publishers, setting up and using makerspaces, developing in-house support for early-career staff, creating travelling exhibits, creative problem solving, and organizing no-cost conferences. It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike, with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject. Core areas treated include film ontology, film structure, psychology, authorship, narrative, and viewer emotion. Emerging areas of interest, including virtual reality, video games, and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters. Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues, film's kinship to other art forms, and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film. Of emphasis is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject.

The audiovisual materials described in this guide illustrate three major occupant protection concepts: (1) The Dynamics of the Crash; (2) The Effectiveness of Safety Belts or Child Car Safety Seats; and (3)

Myths and Misconceptions Related to the Use of Occupant Protection Devices. Items for presentation should be selected according to the time available and the interests of the audience. However, whenever possible, select the films that contain aspects of all three major concepts. It is suggested that the slide packages be used in follow-up presentations, either on child safety seats or safety belts. Each film or slide guide is designed to assist in selecting the materials that are most appropriate for the audience or situation. In addition, suggested presentation questions and answers have been provided. This document describes all of the audiovisual materials selected by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) for inclusion in various educational program kits. Although a particular kit may contain a few of these materials, the others may be obtained directly from NHTSA or the original producers listed on the last page of this guide. Spectrum 1 NE Video Viewers Guide Routledge

Remember, Repeat,
Inhabit looks at three questions in relation to the idea of the viewer: What happens when one reads someone else's reading of someone else? What happens when something repeats itself in Kieslowski's work? Is there a possibility of an ontology of space? The book attempts to understand the idea of 'viewing' from the inside, not simply as an ontological premise but definitely affected by it. Three differing contexts are looked at—a French madman's notion of the 'self', a Polish filmmaker's notion of the 'everyday' and an Indian performance artist's notion of 'memory'. Through these on-the-surface contrasting artists and texts, a particular idea of a 'viewer' emerges. This viewer is the key to an understanding of something almost elemental in the nature of the idea of 'viewing' in the contemporary context of twenty-first-century Delhi. Remember, Repeat, Inhabit Taylor & Francis
