Inside this document, you'll find new and updated sections including: Expanded use of the primary catechistical texts, The Confessions as a key to understanding who Lutherans are, broadened unit on marriage featuring exploring sexual feelings in marriage and the role of Church and State, highlighting the unique nature of Baptist and Lord's supper, Evangelism, and two new essays on heritage of mainline and Lutheran identity. The Confessions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church: Wipf and Stock Publishers

This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons (BY-NC-ND) open access license. The volume brings together two important contemporary accounts of the life of Martin Luther in a confrontational that had been postponed for more than four hundred and fifty years. The first of these is written after Luther's death, when it was rumoured that demons had seized the Reformer on his deathbed and dragged him off to Hell. In response to these rumours, Luther's friend and colleague, Philip Melanchthon wrote and published his version of the Reformers in 1548. A complete new translation of this text appears in this book. It was in response to Melanchthon's work that Johannes Cochlaeus completed and published his own monumental life of Luther in 1549, which is translated and made available in English for the first time in this volume. Such is the detail and importance of Cochlaeus's life of Luther that for an eyewitness account of the Reformation -- and the beginnings of the Catholic Counter-Reformation -- there is simply no other historical document to compare.

A blend of understandable explanations and real-life stories. "Why I Am a Lutheran explores the foundational teachings of the Christian church. In each chapter, Daniel Preus calls upon more than 20 years of pastoral experience to reveal Jesus as the center of the Christian faith. As he addresses central doctrines such as sin and grace, Law and Gospel, the person and work of Jesus Christ, worship, the Sacraments, and the office of the ministry, Preus keeps the focus on Jesus Christ--who is "always and only at the center of all Christian teaching."
