This volume focuses on three artists who embrace media and technology as essential elements of their theatrical
expression:
Elizabeth
LeCompte, Ping

Chong, and Robert Lepage. Diverse in their aesthetic
interests, they
nevertheless share
an approach to directing that includes technological media
on stage as central
to a rigorously
crafted production
concept.
Technological
elements live
alongside and
negotiate with the theatre's human
players, disclosing,
shaping, and even intruding on the
dramas they enact.
The essays in this volume explore how
all three directors
have provided
decisive responses to a question that has
dogged the theatre
for at least the last century: what relationship can theatre, an art form grounded in live, ephemeral, expression, have to technology? The Great North American Stage Directors series provides an authoritative account of the art of directing in North America by examining the work of twenty-four major practitioners from the late 19th century to the present. Each of the eight volumes examines three directors and offers an overview of their practices, theoretical ideas, and contributions to modern theatre. The studies chart the life and work of each director, placing his or her achievement in the context of other important theatre practitioners and broader social history. Written by a team of leading experts, the series presents the genealogy of directing in North America while simultaneously chronicling crucial trends and championing contemporary interpretation. The Dramatic Works of Gerhart Hauptmann: Poetic dramas: Indipohdi. White saviour. Winter ballad Funstory This parable of self-actualization offers valuable lessons, tools, and insights for living a richer, more fulfilling, and more satisfying life. As two White Tigers plan to have a family, they go in search of life wisdom to pass down to the next generation. Their magical journey leads readers down a path of discovery that will enrich their lives. Through this simple parable, “ Dr. Joe ” Di Ruzzo explores the values that are essential for a life lived to its potential. From Freud to Maslow to neurolinguistic programming, Di Ruzzo summarizes the ongoing search for healthier families and happier lives. As a continuation of humanity ’ s effort to understand life ’ s purpose, the story of The Gift of the White Tigers is as old as the history of mankind.
