Practical Watch Repairing Haynes Manuals N. America, Incorporated

Here is a unique book. It describes the theories and processes of repairing and adjusting the modern watch in precise and meticulous detail: a thing which has never been done so completely before in the many books on the same subject. As a text book it is a revelation. Taking nothing for granted, except the ability to read and comprehend a simple description of mechanical processes, de Carle takes his reader through every stage and every operation of watch repairing ...and to deal with them thoroughly is quite a programme - it takes 300 pages containing 24 chapters, two appendices and 553 illustrations. The fine draughtsmanship and accurate technical detail of the illustrations set a new standard. Practical Watch Repairing can justifiably claim to be the best illustrated book on practical horology yet issued, and one of the best of its kind on any subject. The publication of the book marks the beginning of a new epoch in the study of the mechanics of horology.

Color for Impact deserves to be within reach of every editor and desktop publisher's computer. It encourages newcomers to think about colour in new ways and reminds experienced designers that colour can be a two-edged sword: it can as easily obscure a message as drive it home. In either case, by focusing on the message and the communication, rather than what Jan White calls the "decorative" aspects of colour, Color for Impact will help you to take advantage of the reduced costs and increased availability of colour at all levels. Contents: Getting the Best Out of Colour; Ten Commandments on Using Colour; Where to Use Colour; How Much Colour to Use; Copying Colour in Black-and-White; Making the Most of Colour; Which Colour to Choose; Combining Colours with Colours; Colour and Panels; Colour and Pictures; Colour and Type; How Words, Shape, Space, and Colour Produce Impact; Technicalities About Colour.

This book mobilises the theory of uneven and combined development to uncover the geopolitical economic drivers of China 's rise. The purpose is to explain the formation and trajectory of its economic ' accumulation system ' — which remains a confounding hybrid of statist and neoliberal forms of capitalism — as the outcome of China 's geopolitical engagement of the USA during the late stages of the Cold War, and its participation in manufacturing global production networks (GPNs). Fear of geopolitical catastrophe drove China to open its economy, while GPNs enabled China to generate substantial export surpluses which could be recycled through state-owned banks as cheap credit and subsidies to large, vertically integrated and politically-controlled state-owned enterprises. In this way, a synergy emerged between the ' neoliberal ' and ' Keynesian-Fordist ' sectors of the economy, while the national-territorial state retained its form and expanded its functions. The book chronicles how this reliance on export surpluses, however, rendered China extremely vulnerable to external shocks — prompting a dramatic monetary and fiscal stimulus response to the crisis of 2008, even while sustaining the illusion of economic ' decoupling ' from the global economy. Finally, it examines the growing role of the state in the current crisis-ridden economic model, as well as China 's current geoeconomic and geopolitical expansionism in areas such as the Belt and Road Initiative and the militarisation of the East and South China Seas.
