Assessing young language
learners: Motivation and sense of ...

In order to answer the broader question of how teachers can build and maintain young language learners' motivation (Butler, 2015), we constructed a longitudinal model of how motivation develops through the process of learning a foreign language in a Japanese elementary school classroom. This study represents the first fully latent longitudinal test of these theories together in a foreign language classroom setting.

Young Learners' Attitudes and Motivation to Learn English

Young second language learners are often believed to be certain of success and thus their motivation (among other factors related to their learning or teaching) may be insufficiently investigated. But researchers and teachers rightly continue to probe the motivation of all L2 learners, and variation across individuals and groups (Bronson, 2000; Djigunovi, 2012; Deci & Ryan, 2000).
